• Movable type- metal letters for stamping
• It took thirty years, but in 1454, Gutenberg printed 180 copies of the Bible
• By the end of the 15th century, hundreds of print shops existed across Europe |

| How did the Printing Press change the modern world? | • Ideas traveled quickly
• Books were less expensive and took less time to make
• More people learned how to read |
Florence
- Means “Blossoming”
- In the 15th Century (1400s), Florence was a center for the Renaissance movement

Why Florence?
- Florentine merchants and craftsmen were rich from making luxury goods.
- Florence produced much of the clothing for Europe at the time
- Run by the Medici
- Gold Florins- coins minted in Florence were accepted anywhere merchants traveled.
- Florence conquered the states of Pisa, Milan, and Siena.
- A Republic, like Ancient Rome and the people saw this as a treasure.

The Medici
- Very wealthy bankers and textile owners
- His son Cosimo did the banking for the pope
- Enthusiastic humanists and funded arts and learning
- Established the 1st public library in Italy.
- Attracted many scholars to Florence.
- Convinced the University of Florence to teach Greek for the 1st time in 700 years.
- Cosimo’s grandson “Lorenzo the great” was even more well known for establishing the arts and learning in Florence.

Sculptures
- Inspired by Greek and Roman sculptures that showed the beauty of the human form.

Ghiberti
- Scenes from the bible on the baptistery doors.
- Captured movement and individual expression
- Included himself- this was a new way of thinking that artists should be recognized.

Donatello
- Studied in the remains of sculptures in Rome.
- Hired by Medici to create a bronze statue of David, from the bible.
- First free-standing nude statue in western Europe since classical time.
  Was a celebration of the human form. In the middle ages, this was seen as shameful by the church.
Buildings
- The Florentines wanted to turn the city into a showcase. Wanted buildings to reflect pride, hope and confidence.

Brunelleschi
- Lost the contest to sculpt the bronze doors.
- Headed to Rome to study architecture.
- 1418- Contest in Florence to create a dome for the city’s cathedral. This project was large and nothing like this was attempted since the 500’s.
- Used ancient roman techniques to build the dome

Paintings
- Painters admired the realism of the works from Ancient Greece and Rome.
- Still created religious scenes but pointed to the beauty of the world as it is now.
- Showed humans as individuals.

Masaccio
- Studied in Rome.
- First one to paint humanism.
- Used perspective, light and shadow in his paintings- these were new ideas.
- “The Father of Renaissance Painting”

How did the Pope restore Rome?

- The Pope returned to Rome in the mid-1400s.
- Wanted to bring more glory to Rome than Florence had.
- Popes had the money of the church, more money that the Medici, and spent over 200 years restoring the City.

Pope Julius II

- “The Warrior Pope”
- He led an army to take over the rebel cities of Perugia and Bologna.
- He worked to rebuild Rome.
- Built a new St. Peter’s Basilica—hired Michelangelo.

Michelangelo

- Invited to the Medici Palace to study.
- Was a moody, unfriendly person who later fought with Julius II.
- A fellow student fought him and left him with a crumpled nose for the rest of his life.
- Commissioned to created sculptures in Rome, such as “David” and “Pieta”
- Painted the Ceiling of the Sistine Chapel

Summary:

- The Renaissance was a literary and artistic movement inspired by the works of Ancient Greece and Rome.
- Humans were shown as individuals and life on earth was treasured over the afterlife.
- The three major Italian centers of the Renaissance were Florence, Venice and Rome.
